

Dear Readers,

If you want to charge your batteries, drive to Italy, especially to Tuscany. Beautiful and charming nature, superb hotels and cuisine, a beautiful mix of both ancient and the Renaissance tradition and modernity. Many beautiful and enchanting cities, with its famous monuments. Today there is Lucca. In the pictures there are a visible always church tower, a portal with numerous sculptures and a monument of the most outstanding citizen of the city, a composer Giacomo Puccini and one of the entrance gates in the walls surrounding the city. Italy is also one of the most industrially developed countries of Europe and a centre of science including engineering.

Handing over the next issue I wish an interesting reading, and as usual encourage PT authors to prepare their work for publication in next issues.

Gliwice, in February 2011

Prof. Leszek A. Dobrzanski M Dr hc
Editor-in-Chief of the JAMME
President of the WAMME
President of the ACMSSSE